FRAMEWORK 1: PRE-CALL RESEARCH TEMPLATE

PURPOSE

Enter every sales conversation armed with intelligence that positions you as a strategic advisor, not a vendor.

This framework ensures you never walk into a call unprepared. Research separates top performers from average salespeople.

FRAMEWORK 2: DISCOVERY CALL BLUEPRINT

This framework helps you uncover the true pain, budget authority, and decision timeline without interrogating your prospect. Master this, and you'll never waste time on unqualified leads again.

OPENING (2 MINUTES)

1

Rapport Builder:

"I noticed [specific observation about their company/role]. How has that been impacting [relevant business area]?"

2

DISCOVERY QUESTIONS (15 MIN)

Current State: "Walk me through your current process for [relevant area]... What's working well? What's not?"

Pain Identification: "What's the cost of not solving this? How long has this been an issue? What have you tried so far?"

Future State Vision: "If we could wave a magic wand, what would success look like six months from now?"

DECISION PROCESS

3

"Who else is involved in making this decision?"

"What's your typical process for evaluating solutions like this?"

"What's driving the timeline?"

DISCOVERY CALL QUALIFICATION CHECKLIST

ESSENTIAL QUALIFIERS

Use this checklist at the end of every discovery call to determine if the prospect is worth pursuing. All five boxes should be checked before moving forward.

 Pro Tip: If you can't check all five boxes, you don't have a qualified prospect. Be willing to disqualify early to protect your time for real opportunities.

FRAMEWORK 3: VALUE PROPOSITION FORMULA

PURPOSE: ARTICULATE YOUR VALUE IN A WAY THAT MAKES PRICE IRRELEVANT

Your value proposition is the foundation of every successful sale. It's not about features—it's about transformation. This formula has been used to close millions in high-ticket deals because it focuses on outcomes, not offerings.

TARGET CUSTOMER

Who exactly are you serving?

SPECIFIC OUTCOME

What transformation do they achieve?

UNIQUE MECHANISM

How do you deliver this differently?

QUANTIFIABLE BENEFIT

What's the measurable result?

THE COMPLETE FORMULA

"We help [target customer] achieve [specific outcome] by [unique mechanism], which results in [quantifiable benefit]."

Your Full Value Proposition Statement:

FRAMEWORK 4: OBJECTION RESPONSE MATRIX

Handle objections with confidence and convert resistance into momentum. The best closers don't fear objections—they welcome them as opportunities to provide clarity and build conviction.

"I NEED TO THINK ABOUT IT"

Translation: I'm not convinced of the value, or I need to consult someone else.

Your Response: "I appreciate that. Most of our best clients said the same thing initially. Can I ask—what specifically do you need to think about? Is it [option A] or [option B]? Let's talk through it now while we're together."

"IT'S TOO EXPENSIVE"

Translation: I don't see enough value to justify the investment.

Your Response: "I understand. Let's revisit the numbers. You mentioned [pain point] is costing you [amount] per [time period]. Our solution eliminates that cost and adds [additional benefit]. Over [timeframe], that's a return of [X]x your investment. Does that math work for you?"

"I NEED TO TALK TO MY TEAM"

Translation: I'm not the decision-maker, or I need buy-in.

Your Response: "That makes sense. Who else needs to be part of this conversation? What concerns will they have? Let's schedule a call with everyone together so I can address their questions directly."

CUSTOM OBJECTION RESPONSE BUILDER

CREATE YOUR ARSENAL

Every industry and product has unique objections. Use this template to craft responses to the specific objections you hear most often. Write them out, practice them, and make them natural.

The key is preparation. When you've rehearsed your responses, objections become stepping stones to the close instead of roadblocks.

FRAMEWORK 5: THE CLOSING SEQUENCE

PURPOSE: MOVE FROM CONVERSATION TO COMMITMENT WITH CONFIDENCE AND CLARITY

This is where amateurs stumble and professionals shine. The close isn't a single moment—it's a sequence of strategic moves that guide your prospect naturally toward the decision they already want to make.

STEP 1: TRIAL CLOSE

"Based on everything we've discussed, does this feel like the right solution for [their specific need]?"

What You're Listening For: Hesitation, enthusiasm, or remaining concerns. This tells you if you're ready for the full close or need to address more objections.

STEP 3: ASSUMPTIVE CLOSE

"Great. Let's get you started. The next step is [specific action]. I'll send over the agreement today, and we can kick off [specific date]. Does that timeline work for you?"

Why This Works: You're assuming the sale and focusing on logistics, not the decision itself.

STEP 2: ADDRESS FINAL CONCERNS

"What questions do you still have?"

Critical Move: Listen completely. Answer directly. Confirm understanding. Don't rush this step—it's where you build final conviction.

STEP 4: CONFIRM NEXT STEPS

Make everything crystal clear. Ambiguity kills deals. Clarity closes them.

POST-CLOSE ACTION CHECKLIST

The deal isn't done when they say yes. It's done when the contract is signed, payment is processed, and onboarding begins. Use this checklist to ensure nothing falls through the cracks.

IMMEDIATE ACTIONS

- ☐ Agreement sent within 24 hours
- ☐ Kickoff date scheduled on calendar
- ☐ All stakeholders notified via email

Notes: _____

FINANCIAL PROCESSING

- ☐ Payment terms confirmed
- ☐ Invoice or payment link sent
- ☐ Payment received and recorded

Notes: _____

ONBOARDING INITIATED

- ☐ Welcome packet delivered
- ☐ First milestone scheduled
- ☐ Internal team briefed on new client

Notes: _____

☐ Remember: Your reputation is built on delivery, not just closing. A smooth transition from sale to onboarding creates raving fans who refer others to you.

FRAMEWORK 6: THE FOLLOW-UP CADENCE

PURPOSE: STAY TOP-OF-MIND WITHOUT BEING PUSHY

Most sales are made between the 5th and 12th touchpoint, but most salespeople give up after the second attempt. This framework ensures you stay persistent while adding value at every interaction. The key is strategic timing and relevant content—not just "checking in."

YOUR PERSONAL FOLLOW-UP TRACKER

Copy this template for each prospect you're nurturing. Consistency is the difference between leaving money on the table and maximizing every opportunity in your pipeline.

TRACK EVERY PROSPECT

Use this template to maintain momentum with every opportunity. The fortune is in the follow-up, but only if you're systematic about it.

Set calendar reminders for each touchpoint so nothing slips through the cracks.

FRAMEWORK 7: THE DEAL REVIEW TEMPLATE

PURPOSE: LEARN FROM EVERY DEAL—WON OR LOST—TO CONTINUOUSLY IMPROVE

Commit to completing this template within 48 hours of every deal closing (or dying). The insights are freshest when the experience is recent. This single habit will accelerate your growth more than any other practice.
