Your Five Core Metrics

These five measurements form the foundation of your wellness tracking system. Each metric has been carefully selected because it directly impacts your overall performance and quality of life.

Sleep Hours & Quality

Track both duration and quality (1-10 rating). Sleep is the foundation of cognitive function, immune health, and emotional regulation.

Energy Level

Rate your overall energy (1-10). This is your most valuable daily resource—monitor it to optimize performance.

Stress Level

Rate your stress (1-10). Chronic stress is the silent performance killer that undermines all other wellness efforts.

Focused Work Hours

Count hours of deep, uninterrupted work. Quality focus time drives meaningful results and professional growth.

Daily Notes

Capture wins, challenges, and adjustments. These qualitative insights reveal patterns that numbers alone cannot show.
